Ben has advised that the contract will be restrictive but not exclusive – I will confirm that it doesn't impact the nab terminal (will also advise David Stottard is on same page)

That's correct. We looked at this a couple of years ago.

No. The NAB deal allows us to do what we are currently doing. The CBA deal wouldn't.

I think you will find the same wording in the Crown Melbourne NAB agreement that Deb has referred to on occasion.

Jason,

Can you please loose with your NAB contact to enquire re eftpos facilities being set up in Perth.

As discussed, please see following proposed term of the CBA contract (that I understand is currently being negotiated by Purchasing for both Perth and Melbourne, however I may be wrong):

On page 17 of the Banking Service Agreement, condition 12 states:

12) *The Bank will continue to provide Crown Melbourne with 31 standalone mobile Pin Pads for acceptance of UnionPay cards, EFTPOS transactions and as a back-up solution until such time as acceptance of UnionPay cards is available through the MICROS integrated solution. The following transactions are not permitted under the Bank's UnionPay solution (my emphasis)

- (a) Transactions over $999,999.99
- (b) Cash out
- (c) Offline transactions under Store & Forward
- (d) Card not present
- (e) Vouchers and "click clacks"
- (f) Phone authorisation

- (g) Purchase of bets or gaming chips
- (h) Purchase of foreign currency

Let me know if you have any queries.

Cheers
Josh
