Morning

Matt relayed that Tracy's first two emails in July didn't go to him because they were sent to an incorrect email address. Jacqui chased him up on the third one (she had assumed he had already replied to the earlier emails in July, so was surprised to see Tracy chasing this in November) and forwarded it to Matt. Matt says he then had a meeting with Tracy and ran through where to find the information she was seeking in the reports that the VCGLR already received. Tracy indicated that there was some additional information she needed and Matt sent her the below email indicating that she would receive these additional reports going forward. The next he heard on the matter was when you emailed us last week.

Thanks Jason, I hope this helps, but let me know if you need anything further.

Regards
